DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Heyne 6,226,902 in view of JP 11235786A.

Heyne discloses a backhoe including:

- an open operator station (110) with a substantially unrestricted sight field (Col. 3, lines 61-65; Figs. 1-2)
- a boom (124) mounted for side to side swinging movement
- an operator-actuated control (166 or 164) for swinging the boom in near the sight field
- a guard (wall behind controls 114a in Figure 2 and shown in Fig. 1) blocking accidental access to the control from outside the operator station

However, Heyne fails to disclose the guard being transparent.

Like Heyne, JP 11235786A discloses an operator's station for a construction machine. The operator's station has a guard attached to the front. Unlike Heyne, JP 11235786A makes the guard of transparent glass and plastic so that the visibility of the operator is not impaired (See advantage portion of abstract).

Art Unit: 3671

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to make the guard of Heyne transparent as in JP 11235786A, in order not to impair the visibility of the operator as expressly taught in JP 11235786A.

Regarding claim 2, the operator's station in Heyne has a floor (Fig. 2) and the control is foot-actuated.

Regarding claim 3, the guard in Heyne extends from side-to-side (Fig. 1).

Regarding claims 4-7, the guard in JP 11235786(A) is a unitary sheet of shatter-resistant plastic material (See abstract).

Regarding claim 8, the guard in Heyne has a height less than the height of the sight filed from the operator station (Fig. 1).

Conclusion

3. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
